

IANLAN City Plan

Continuity City — reconciled interiors and circulation

Revision R2 · 5 September 2026 · PROPOSED / NOT BUILT

285 scheduled rooms · 88 tenants · 48 households · 48 duty beds · 28 stair cores

Lantern Court and the World History Archive · Mall of America and Atlas Park · Continental Command · Residential Cavern · Deep Support · Night Watch

Exact architectural proposals, supported by dated September evidence. These are not measurements of current live blocks and are not an executable construction operation set.

Room IDs resolve to the floor-plan browser, room schedule and architectural-contract.json. Public edition: mystery geometry and clue answers are omitted. The original July Corridor PDF is retained separately as historical evidence.

What changed in the authoritative plan

Mall

240×208; floors –23/–15/–7/1; two lower service/aquarium floors. Exactly 88 established addresses and the 58/22/8 mix.

Cinema / food

Six corner auditoria across L3-L4. L3 retains six north and four south food concepts; no ten-north tenant collision.

Housing

Four terraces of twelve homes. The upper band is canopy and maintenance, not a fifth residential terrace.

Command

The reservation extends upward to Y–16 to accommodate the separate 49×33 tall situation floor.

Datacenter / Night Watch

Four separate server halls. Three Night Watch floor plates with individual salons and suites.

Current evidence

OASIS and After Dark have September built/restart evidence. The old Living Atlas is still the recorded physical predecessor; Continuity City is Proposed.

Publication

Public R2 edition. Website publication is tracked separately from construction. No fresh world survey is claimed. As-built inventory exports retain their own dated source.

Public/controlled paths cross service perimeters over explicit four-block service dips. The underpass schedule overrides flat route rectangles locally. These three-dimensional junctions require a block-level headroom and source collision check before construction.

Every room has a front and rear door connected to its own route system. The validator checks reachability to stair shafts. It does not certify actual slab placement, fire independence, fluid behavior, redstone behavior or an external emergency destination.

The independent outside foot exit and emergency rail destination remain unresolved survey targets. Internal alternate stairs and refuge destinations must not be advertised as a working external escape.

Campus circulation · district relationships

North up. Blue: public Archive–Mall connection. Red: controlled, resident or restricted connections; each label gives its floor Y. Night Watch overlaps deep support only in plan, on separate floors.

Service underpasses are scheduled separately. External emergency endpoints remain unsurveyed. This diagram is a projection of exact proposed centerlines, not a world route acceptance receipt.

How to read these drawings

All plan coordinates are Minecraft X/Z, north up; Y is the floor block. All boxes are inclusive.

Colored blocks are rooms; cream is public or controlled circulation; ochre is service; dark blue is stairs; pale green is atrium/attraction volume.

White inset pads show furnishing compositions. Signature maps, seating, rack rows and water geometry also have dedicated JSON subrecords.

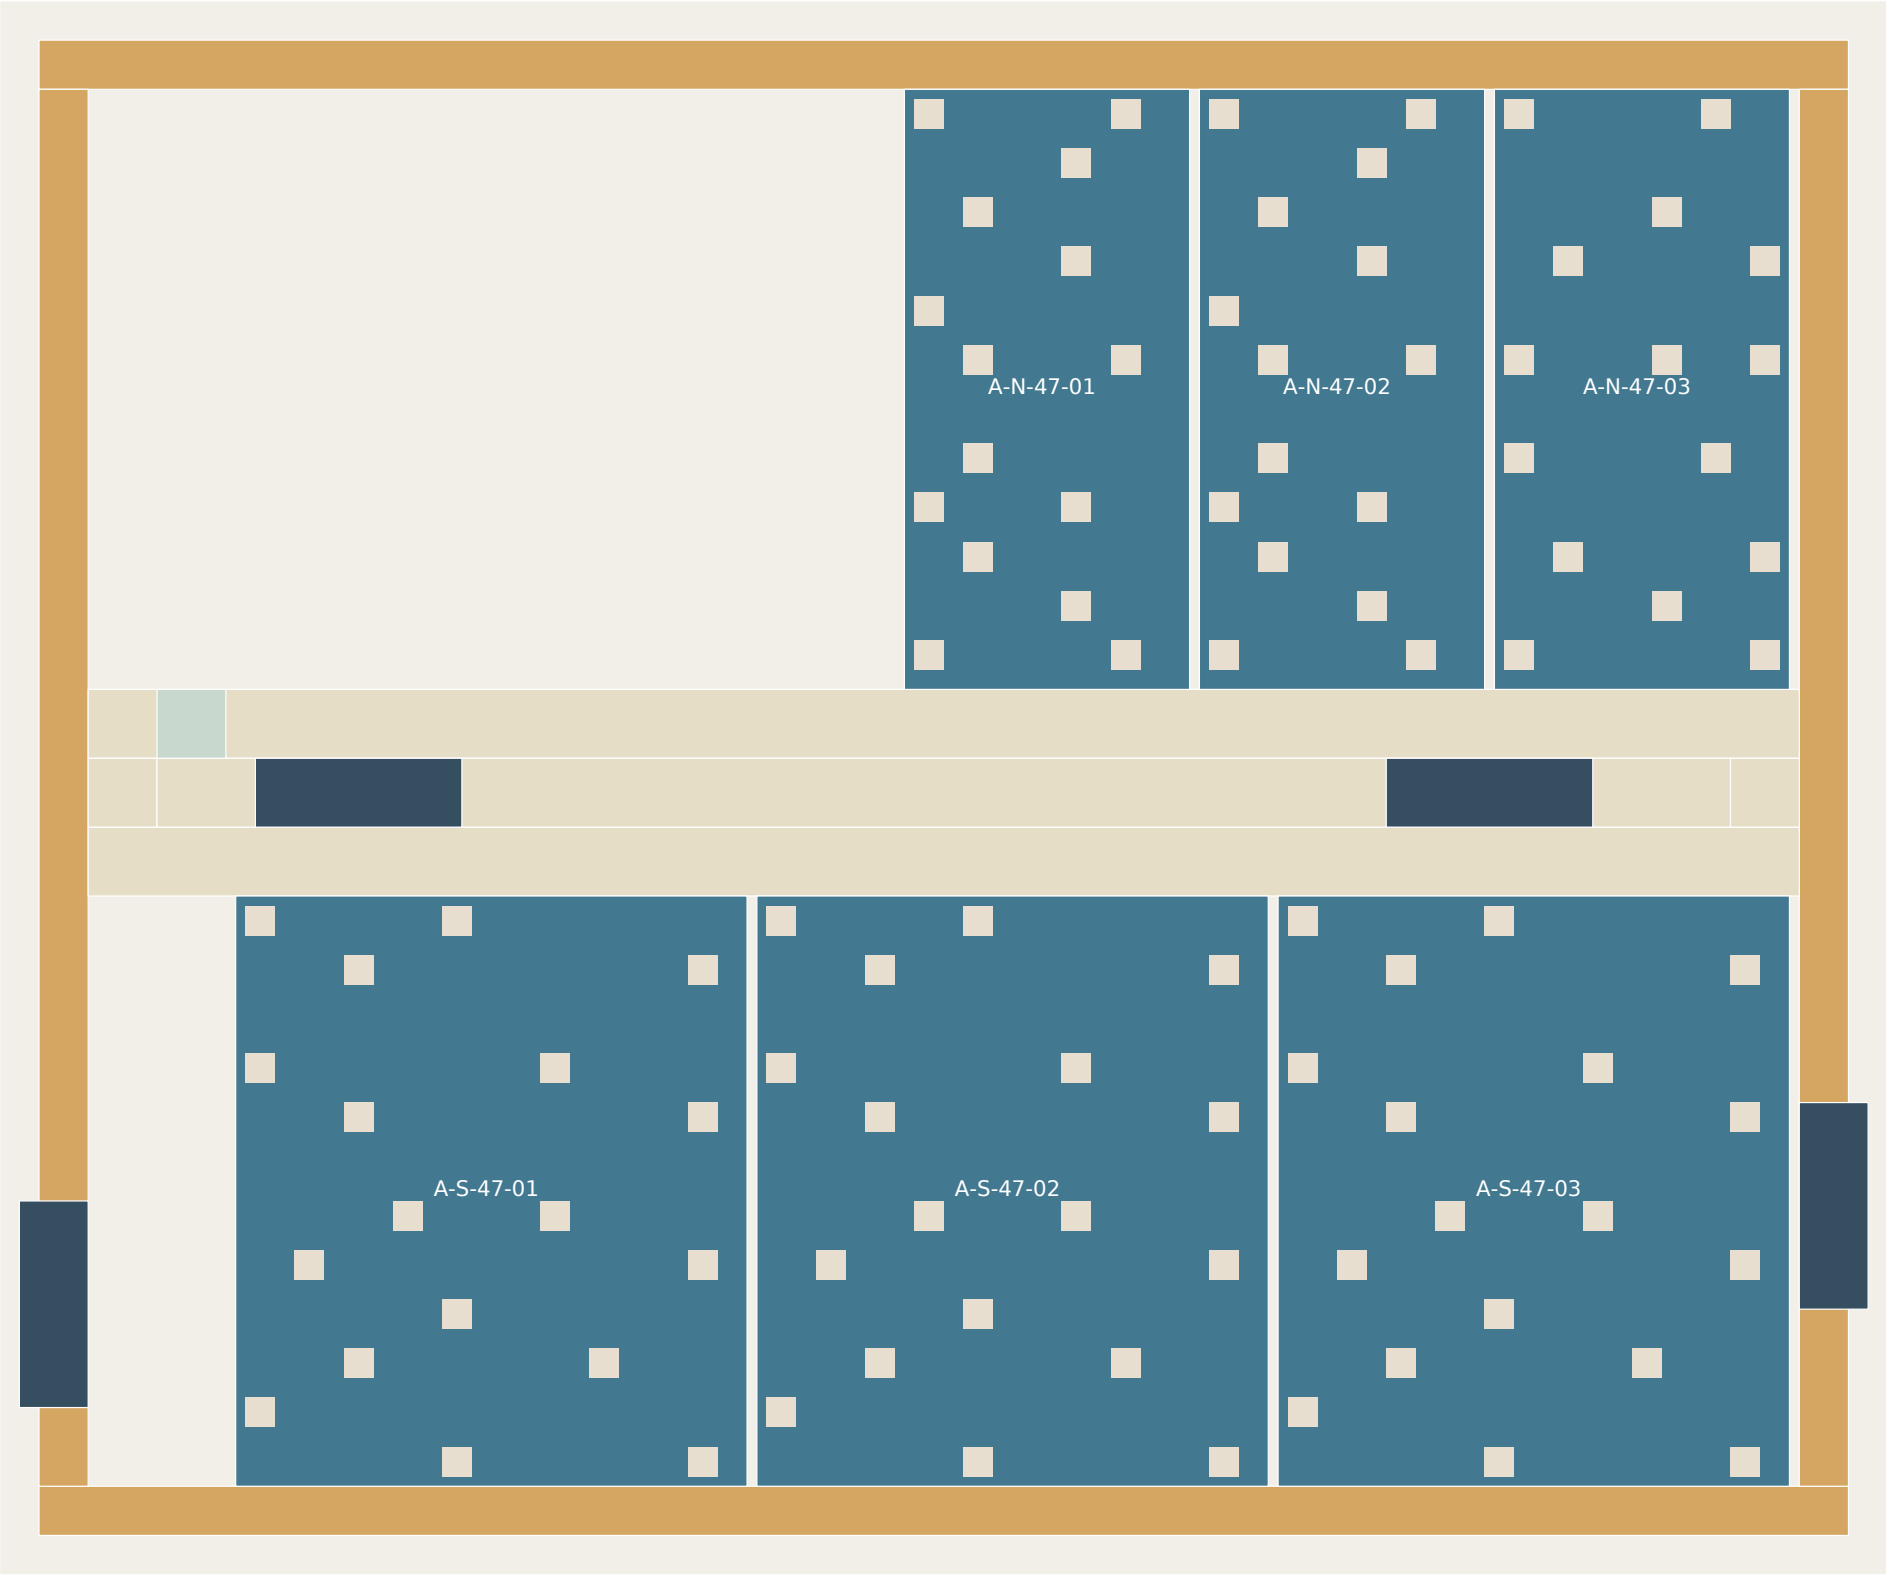

A tall room appears on each floor it occupies. The presence of its outline does not imply an intermediate floor plate.

The schedule is architectural. All exact block states, text/NBT, inventories, mechanism circuits and source-bound recovery remain construction deliverables.

Ten density features remain assigned. Platform Zero, Corridor Null and the clue ledger are private design evidence, not public wayfinding destinations.
